The Editor's Quill

From the Chief Editor,
Dear readers,

As famously quoted by Albert Einstein, "Creativity is intelligence having fun." Thus, I am delighted to present to you the 1st edition of the bimonthly newsletter 'CenScroll' of Centre Point School. CenScroll is an illuminating chronicle providing an insight into the scholastic and co-scholastic activities conducted at the school. CenScroll celebrates the pride and prestige of Centre Pointers, highlights various remarkable achievements and documents memorable and precious moments at school. CenScroll also espouses the school motto - 'Shine On' and provides a promising opportunity to students to participate and polish their creative skills and create a world of beauty in words. The birth of CenScroll is a combined effort of the Editorial Board- Yasha Motiyani, Tanvi Jham, Sanath Shiohare, Arwa Vali and Ankush Batra, under guidance and mentorship of Ms. Ruchi Tyagi. I am grateful to our respected Principal, Mrs. Kanchan Ukey for entrusting us with the responsibility of editing. It gives me immense pleasure to hereby give you a collection of anecdotes featuring achievements of the school and creative works of the young minds at Centre Point School.

Happy scrolling!

SIDDHANT KUMAR: CHILD PRODIGY OF CPSWN

Siddhant Kumar is a child prodigy studying in Class 12 Centre Point School, Wardhaman Nagar. He has already proven to be a brilliant student by grabbing the third spot as the city topper in class X with a score of 99.2% in the year 2021-22.

He has managed to achieve an astonishing patent to his name for his invention "A Method and a System for Real Time Communication for Communication Abled and Communication Disabled."

This young inventor added another feather to his cap when he developed Remotely Controlled Surveillance bot, that is, mobile surveillance system to monitor and locate trespassers near borders to ensure high security facilities. His bot is a low cost, light weight mobile surveillance solution plus he has the ability to be programmed on site, upgraded, and repaired without any hassle. He received a letter of appreciation for his services as well. He aspires to study further at MIT to pursue his dreams to study Computer Science and Robotics, and we would say he is already on the right path to make his dream come true.

Shakespeare Day Observed at CPS WN

“All the world's a stage, and all men and women merely players.”

April 23rd is celebrated as Shakespeare's Day worldwide and Centre Point School was fast to get behind it too. The school conducted an event for students of class 8th, 9th and 10th to celebrate the legendary works of William Shakespeare. The students witnessed a short skit which was an excerpt from the play, 'The Merchant of Venice'. Students of class 9th prepared a video on some trivia about Shakespeare's life and other interested students made beautiful charts for all to see. Our Principal Mrs. Kanchan Ukey also came by to say a few words about this event. All in all the mood of the event was congenial where lovers of language thrived and enjoyed, discussed and debated on all things Shakespeare's and those new to this got a sense of how beautiful the works of Shakespeare are and bask in its glory.

CENTRE POINT SCHOOL WARDHAMAN NAGAR, NAGPUR. NATIONAL SPORTS DAY

NATIONAL SPORTS DAY AT CPSWN

National Sports Day was observed in CPSWN on August 29, commemorating the birthday of Major Dhyan Chand, one of the finest field hockey players India has ever seen. It marked the culmination of a week-long inter-house sports events that were held in the school. Students of classes VI to X competed inter-house cricket, basketball, football matches during the said week. Various team building activities were conducted for students of classes I to V. Students participated in all the events with great passion and enthusiasm.

Back to School! Academic Session: - 23-24

The first week of school is always an eventful one. Friends reuniting, meeting teachers (old and new), the smell of new books and loads of new instructions. Though it can be overwhelming but the free and fun atmosphere of the school helps the students to settle down quickly and get headlong into the daily routine.

The principal and the staff wish all the students a very successful term and we hope it is a mighty fruitful one too!

5th WIN IN A ROW FOR THE INTERACTERS

The Interact Club of CENTRE POINT SCHOOL WARDHAMAN NAGAR has done it again. It has won the prestigious best Interact Club of Nagpur, not once, not twice but now FIVE times in a row! We cannot contain our excitement for this tremendous feat and an incredible achievement.

The club is ably guided by Mrs. Roma Mundra and the students have excelled beyond expectations. With activities such as UDAAN (project for the underprivileged), Civic Awareness (street plays on social issues), Save Earth Awareness, Cyber Safety Workshops, Library Set-ups for underprivileged schools etc. it is without a doubt that the Club had to win this year as well.

The club's President Rida Seth and Secretary Jumana Gulzar could not contain their smiles while they accepted the award at an impressive ceremony on 6th July 2023. All the hard work put in by their team came to fruition while they proudly held up the coveted trophy in their hands.

Our Principal, Mrs. Kanchan Ukey was over the moon while congratulating the team with their mentor Mrs. Roma Mundra. May they have many such triumphs in the future as well.

CPSWN WITNESSES INVESTITURE CEREMONY

Centre Point School, Wardhaman Nagar came together on 1st July, 2023 to witness the oath-taking ceremony of the prestigious Student Council for the new academic session, 2023-24.

The Investiture Ceremony is the culmination of a democratic election process that is marked by transparency and impartiality in its truest sense. It gives students, who consider themselves worthy of being a part of the esteemed Council, a chance to nominate themselves. These students express their views on important matters in front of teachers and students once they are shortlisted by a scrutinizing committee. Exciting and tense moments prevail as expectant faces watch the casting of votes through a secret 'ballot' before the much-awaited results are out!

The four Houses as well as the School Captain, Aditya Somani and the School Vice-Captain, Nishil Kohad took the oath, solemnly pledging themselves to serve their school and their Houses to the best of their abilities.

Extending her hearty congratulations to each member of the Council, Mrs. Kanchan Ukey praised the decorum with which the ceremony was conducted and the enthusiasm and resolve displayed by the Council members as they accepted their posts. She advised them to look up to their predecessors as role models and also become inspiring role models for their juniors. She emphasized the importance of unity and collaboration, urging everyone to continue supporting and uplifting one another in their future endeavors. Lastly, she expressed her confidence in the students' ability to make a positive impact on society and encouraged them to always strive for excellence.

Our Story

Class-8 Nikhil Gupta

After the gods finished making Earth and all the animals in it, he invited all of them to a party for celebration. All the animals came there except the turtles and tortoises who were enjoying the comfort of their houses. After the party, the gods got angry and asked the turtles and the tortoises why they didn't come to the party, but they told them that they all caught a virus, but they could not fool the gods. They said that "if you like your house so much, then you carry it!". After they said this, they gave the turtles and tortoises their home on their back.

The turtles and the tortoises were shocked and they begged for mercy. The gods felt pity and said "If you can beat us in a race we will remove your house from your back." So they raced almost 700 times but, even if the gods simply walked they beat them as, the turtles and tortoises were carrying their heavy house. So turtles and tortoises carry their own house.

Grandma Jazz was telling stories to Anush and his friends as it was raining outside and they could not play.

"So, do you like it?" : asked grandma Jazz.

"Yes! We love it!" Grandma Jazz : they all said together in excitement.

Roses are dead
Violets are dying
outside I'm smiling
But inside I'm crying
I can understand the sky's pain
It cannot say it
But it can cry in the form of rain
Sometimes I feel like I'm tied with chains
and the problems come one after the other like trains
I'm trying to set my past free But actually it's killing me !

Our Story

Within You by Urvi Mehta

She wasn't poetry
Not something you would actually talk about
But when you see her it reminded you of eternity
Beyond the seas, way beyond the clouds
Her heart was not as bright as the sun
And her eyes didn't glow like the moon
She was the one with whom you would escape and run
Someone who was known for her love for monsoon
She was flawed but real
One can say that she was different from others
For me she was the definition of ethereal
She was definitely one of those quaint type of lovers
The world is known for its dark and lucent days
She saw them as her life's new chapters
Even if they would break her in many different ways
She would never be drained of her own colours
She lives in her own delusion
It is harmful for her but that is what she prefers
She is someone who feels safe wrapped around her illusion
Because it's the only place which she rightfully claims hers
She is too good to be true in this world
Delicate like a feather, features of an angel
She radiates an energy that has an aura that is pearled
A heavenly personality and eyes where the truth seen, twinkles
I nor the world are fortunate to have ever met her
She is a benevolent soul with abilities that are well hidden
People travel an entire life to be able to reach her
However, she is the perfect poem I would have ever written
The curiosity rises when we think if she is actually real
A wise person once said, "If you look around you
She will try to be disguised in someone else, well she just won't reveal
But if you look within you, there she will be, too real to be true
